Major national recruiting platform Mogul names AFN and employee one of its top 100 DEI leaders for 2021.

Kohl's rolled out their new website to highlight the company's own DEI commitments and initiatives, and to shine a spotlight on its diverse network of suppliers. The site features OTR Limited, a sister company of AFN that serves as a product design and development supplier for Kohl's Young Women's brands, in recognition of AFN's status as a leading woman-owned business. The website noted that the "OTR team is world-renowned for its technical design capabilities mastering fit and form for the American consumer."

"I am extremely proud to work with a company as distinguished and established as Kohl's. Kohl's has actively sought out a diverse group of quality suppliers like OTR Limited, and we work every day to provide the company and its customers with high quality designs and products. It's gratifying to see our work recognized as part of the company's effort to lead on DEI initiatives." - Jackie Ferrari, CEO
